

MAY CONSTRUCT BRANCH LINE ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC FROM OREANA TO ROCHESTER MINES

(Special to the Bonanza.)
ROCHESTER, Nev., April 3.—No such remarkable development work in a new mining district has ever been witnessed as that on Nenzel mountain. In the three months which have intervened since the discovery of the extraordinary silver deposits in Rochester canyon was made by Joseph F. Nenzel, tunnels have been run into the mountain at various depths from all sides and the rich ore veins have been penetrated, ore sacked and shipped, leasers working three shifts daily and hundreds of tons of shipping ore brought from the treasure mountain and stacked ready for shipment with the completion of the high line ore road across the face of Nenzel mountain and leading to Oreana on the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad 12 miles distant. Only one lease on the mountain has been too impatient to ship to wait until the completion of the ore road and after sacking the ore taken from their drifts on the vein, have skidded the sacks half way down the mountain on a chute, after which the ore has been placed on a sled and brought to a point where it could be loaded on the ore wagons and then hauled through the Rochester canyon to the railroad. This method has been considered too costly by the other leasers and in consequence they have awaited the completion of the ore road.
On Nenzel mountain proper the Big Four lease has been in the high grade silver ore for some weeks, sacking and shipping all the rock taken from their drifts. No attempt has been made to stope and only the ore taken out while they have prosecuted their development work has been touched. No attempt to sort this ore has been made, the entire output going to the smelter.

SAM DAVIS IS A GREAT ADMIRER OF SAGEBRUSH

NEVADA HUMORIST INSISTS THERE IS MILLIONS IN THE DESERT PRODUCT.
Sam Davis is at it again. Sara has sagebrush on the brain, and it is strongly intimated that he even dreams of it by night. However, we believe he is on the right track and deserves to win, and we hope he does, for the utilization of what is now a useless waste would mean added millions to Nevada's wealth. The following is a communication from him to The Call of San Francisco, California:
Editor Call: Editorially this morning you quote me as saying that $23 worth of chemicals could be extracted from a ton of sagebrush at a cost of $1 per ton. This is an error. An estimate of cost of handling a large amount of sagebrush (23,000 tons) made at the University of Nevada, shows the cost to be $3.25 a ton and the net profit $20.55 a ton.
German chemists are already investigating the proposition of extracting money from sagebrush. In the state of Michigan many millions are invested in the extraction of chemicals from hard wood by dry distillation, and they pay $5 a cord for the raw material.
The middle states furnish most of the staples which can be extracted from sagebrush, and the western states pay the freight on the commodities when they could manufacture them at home for much less cost.

STOCK EXCHANGE SEATS.
In the Wednesday issue of the Bonanza it was stated that Harry Epstein, the local stock broker, has been elected to membership on the San Francisco stock exchange. Mr. Epstein is the second Tonopah broker to enjoy this privilege. J. C. Robertson, who was located at Goldfield during the palmy days of that camp, enjoys a like membership, having had a seat on the exchange for several years. Mr. Robertson is a member of the firm of J. C. Robertson and company.

FOUR MONTHS IS SENTENCE FOR RESISTING ARREST

TONY SANCOVICH IS LECTURED ON HABIT OF CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPON.

Four months in the county jail was the sentence meted out to Tony Sancovich in the justice court late yesterday afternoon, for assault and the additional charge of resisting arrest. Sancovich was severely lectured on the habit of carrying a gun and was warned by Judge Dunsen that a repetition of the habit would mean the invoking of a limit sentence.
Sancovich was arrested Wednesday night by Chief of Police W. B. Evans and Night Officer Ed Welsh after the officers were compelled to smash the door leading to the defendant's room. Previously to the arrest Sancovich and Rocco Basich engaged in a fight in the Eagles saloon. The former drew his revolver and threatened the life of Basich. The police were summoned but Sancovich did not await their arrival and started up the back street for his room.
He was closely pursued by the officers and finally took refuge in his room in the Soller building. During the time the officers were forcing an entrance to the room, Sancovich stood directly in front of the door with a leveled revolver pointed in the direction of the officers. Lack of nerve on his part is all that saved the officers from death or serious injury.
The prisoner was charged with resisting officers and also with assault. On the latter charge he was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail, and on the charge of resisting arrest he was fined $60. Not having the money to pay the fine Judge Dunsen ordered the defendant to serve one day in jail for each $2 of the fine, which will make the sentence total 120 days.
Judge Dunsen warned Sancovich, and also every person in the court room he would not sanction the habit of carrying firearms without a permit and all offenders arrested on this charge would receive the maximum sentence.

INDIANS ENJOY BIG CELEBRATION THEN ARRESTED

OVER INDULGENCE OF WHITE
MAN'S BOOZE HAS DISASTROUS ENDING.

Two winsome Plute squaws and one dilapidated appearing buck of the same tribe indulged in a belated April Fools day celebration yesterday afternoon and along toward evening their condition was such that navigation was next to impossible.
Chief of Police Evans and his trusty night officer, Ed Welsh, discovered the celebrating trio last evening and promptly escorted them to the city bastle. A word of warning was issued today to the two ladies and gentleman, by Chief Evans, concerning what might be expected hereafter when drunken Indians were arrested. But few cases of this sort have come under police observations for several months, and in order to avoid future occurrences Chief Evans and his deputies will endeavor to apprehend the parties who have made it a practice to sell whiskey to Indians. The trio were discharged today by Evans.

That the Buckhorn mining ground bids fair to equal some of the largest producers of the west was evinced some time ago when the United States Smelting company proffered $1,500,000 for the estate. This was refused by George Wingfield, who asked $2,000,000 for the property at that time. Since then an immense amount of development work has been done, and the contract has just been let for the equipping of the property with a 400-ton reduction plant. It is said that Mr. Wingfield has associated with him H. C. Frick and some other wealthy men in this proposition. One who has recently visited the property says:
"When three multimillionaires join fortunes in any kind of an enterprise the business world sits up and takes notice. When the big three in the industrial and financial world joined hands to develop one of the biggest deposits of low grade gold ore thus discovered in the west, or in the world for that matter, no one paid the slightest attention, for the good and sufficient reason that no one knew anything about it except the gentlemen themselves, and they never tell tales out of school.—Salt Lake Telegram.

SHIPMENTS OF QUICKSILVER NET GOOD PROFITS

STEADY PRODUCTION IS BEING MAINTAINED BY PROPERTY AT IONE.

F. J. Davis, who is heavily interested in the Ione section in Tonopah, having returned from the coast where he spent the past three months. Davis will leave shortly for the Ione district where he will resume operations.
The quicksilver industry in the Ione region is assuming huge proportions, declared Davis, and he is of the belief that at least one new company will install a furnace during the coming summer. The Mercury Mining company has been making steady shipments throughout the winter and a neat profit is being obtained as the result of the operations. The shipments have not been less than 40 flasks weekly. The flasks are valued at $45 each, making the value of the shipments not less than $2000.
In addition to quicksilver mining Davis declares that several mining properties are being developed with good results.
